Description

Euro Front combines West Front and East Front for a truly titanic struggle, the entire European conflict of World War II, from the Spanish Civil War to the fall of Berlin.

In order to create a fog of war, unit blocks are stood up with the backs facing the opponent. In this manner the opponent not tell the type or the strength of the units being deployed against him until battle begins. Along the sides of the unit blocks, only visible to the owner until it comes time for combat, are numbers that represent the strength of the unit. The current strength is on top. As the unit takes losses, it is rotated so a lesser value is on top.

Euro Front is not a complete game, ownership of East Front and West Front is required to play.
